THE MEL BAR

Relax and wind down at the Mel Bar, Millennium House

From the Editor

Lots about environmental questions this month, arranged as a four-page pull out section spanning the centre pages of this issue. That way it will be easier for you to keep this important information close to you at all times, so that you can all memorise the content word for word :) Seriously though, this stuff may look a bit dry, but the "Environment" is set to be an epic challenge for us all in the coming years, so it's worth taking a look. This month we have a report on the "waste and recycling" event held in September; then a very informative and useful piece called "Why has a Climate Emergency been declared" by Paul Wiscombe. chair of the St Ive Parish Climate Action Group; and finally an article by Ali Humphreys, from our neighbouring Parish of South Hill, about the Terracycle recycling programme that she helps to run, which allows us all to recycle some materials that are not collected in our kerbside collections, and to benefit a wonderful charity at the same time. Improving our recycling rates is tiny part of what will need to be done to stave of a climate catastrophe, but it's a good start...

Other than that, another packed edition this month. There really is a lot going on! New initiatives and activities that caught my eye include Walking Netball, the Age Concern electric vehicle based at Millennium House, and violin classes at Pensilva School. Enjoy!

Joe

Pensilva WI meeting report Wednesday 9th October

On Wednesday 9th October, members, friends and families met to celebrate Harvest with a supper and auction.

Before the festivities began, thanks were given to all those who supported our Macmillan coffee morning in September- over £300 was made. A range of beautifully hand-crafted glassware was on display, made by members at their glass workshop in September – creativity at its finest!

A huge spread of delicious food was enjoyed for Harvest supper, continuing the trend that no one would go hungry at a Pensilva function!

Auctioneer Verna
Dawe did her usual brilliant job of enticing people to buy the produce available, offering a free gift to those who spent over £1.50! What a variety there was to purchase everything from apples (at least 5 varieties!), all sorts of fruit, plenty of vegetables, jam, chutneys to most things in between! Birthdays this month – Pat Anderson, Liz Clayton, Verna Dawe – all received a pretty posy from WI.

The speaker for our 13th November meeting at 7.15pm is Colin Buck and he will speak on 'Mining in Cornwall'. As well as flower of the month, the November competition is a precious stone or gem. Visitors welcome.

Violin classes at school (See also the cover photograph)

Holywell Class at Pensilva Primary are really enjoying learning to play the violin this term. Lessons have been arranged through the Cornwall Music Service's First Access provision and each week a specialist music teacher comes into class to teach. So far, the children have learned what all the strings are, have begun using their bows, and have already learned to play three different songs. The children will be having ten hours' of lessons and will finish by performing a mini concert for their parents next term.

NEWS FROM PENSILVA GUIDING

After 30 years Guiding, working as a team, weekly meetings and taking units away on pack holidays, canal holidays and Guide camp, Jackie, Lynne and Martha wish to retire. The fun and camaraderie has been brilliant we have made friends with other Guiders in Cornwall, Britain and the world. We would like four new leaders two for Brownies and two for Rainbows. There is training from Cornwall Girlguiding and we are willing to help with the transition to new leaders. The times and days of unit meetings can be changed to suit the new leaders. Anyone who is interested please contact Jackie by email at jackiepensilva@gmail.com

From Rev Becca Bell

But we can all do something about this.

We are in the season of Remembering. For some there are painful memories of lost loved ones who we wish were still with us. For others, memories of trauma, especially those who served their country in wartime. For others, there is a pensive reflection as the season changes and we think on the year that has been and has brought us to now. For many, remembering becomes more of an issue as the weather keeps folk indoors and its harder to socialise. Memories become company and even happy ones are bittersweet as they remind us of times we felt more loved than we perhaps do now.

I have been holding Baptism prep sessions over the past year where, instead of visiting individual families, I gather families seeking a Christening for a little one at a session altogether where they spend time eating cake, being with other families, and reflecting on what this occasion might mean for them. As part of it I ask why they are choosing Christening for their little one. Often parents will say "so my child feels part of a community". I have really appreciated seeing how my 3 boys enjoy being part of a multigenerational community where they feel safe and at home. But unlike many christening families, my boys do go to church fairly often! I suggest to Baptism families that it is a wonderful thing to want community for our children, and as humans we are wired to need community, but we all have to play our part as part of it.

It is easy to imagine that community is somehow happening out there and we can slot in when it suits us. Or even to imagine that community should come to us. But it doesn't take much reflection to realise that the very nature of community means that we have to invest in it for it to even exist, let alone for it to offer us anything in return.

In all the communities I serve there are wonderful ways of engaging with community. In St Cleer there is church (either midweek or Sunday or both), Open Doors, the Memorial Hall events, a football team, gardening club, pub... and more! In Menheniot there is the Village hall, Cricket club, church, Old School, Mother Union... and more! In St Ive there are two churches, and links with Pensilva where there is a 3rd church and the Millennium Centre with loads of activities as well as a WI. In Quethiock there are wonderful groups linked to church and parish hall, and Merrymeet is seeking to become a community Centre to support the community in which it stands.

Where are you linked in?

There are many older folk who struggle to get out, especially as the weather gets worse. We need to be aware of our neighbours and care for them. But for many of us we need to build that network of community so we can be there for those who need it now, and so it is there for us when we one day need it. It doesn't happen by magic! Communities need leaders and followers: Punters and Chiefs! But most of all communities need commitment.

I am well aware that many folk expect the churches I serve to be there for their Baptisms, weddings, funerals, Christmas, Remembrance, and Easter... but in-between what happens to them? It's true the church is struggling but it could make all the difference if those who value it being there were to come along a little more often.

This season of Remembrance, whether you are pensive or grieving, Try Church. And maybe try and reach out to other parts of the community too, if you don't already. Even Jesus didn't try and complete his mission on earth single-handedly, but chose 12 men whose talents varied greatly! And several women who seemed to catch on more quickly too! We certainly can't expect to get through life on our own. We each of us need to build our team and commit to being in the team of others too. We are still building memories after all!

Wrong phone number in October's home insulation article

The Government's Energy Saving Advice helpline has changed! The correct number to ring is now 0800 444202. Sincere apologies for any inconvenience.

New Bus Shelter for the Parish

The Parish Council have installed a third Bus Shelter to the Parish at The Cross, replacing the old rusty shelter. This one was funded and installed by Cornwall Council at the request of the local Parish Council.

October saw the installation of an Electric Charging Point for an AGE Concern car which will be used by volunteer drivers to ferry people to and from appointments. Installation and running costs at Millennium House will be funded by AGE Concern at no cost to the Parish.

St Ive and District Gardening Association

At our October meeting the speaker took us for a long walk in Africa. David Lemon was the first man to walk the length of the Zambezi River. After retiring he took up the challenge to make the journey through four countries in Southern Africa, mostly through wild countryside and deep gorges. Seeing his many photos and hearing the tales and insights into the life of the people he passed on the way made it an interesting evening for all of us.

On November 4th we will be thinking about rivers again when Chris Jones tells us about the benefits of his beavers in preventing flooding near Truro.

The meeting will be held in St Ive village hall at 7.30pm. Visitors welcome.

Report on last month's concert at St. John's

Those of you who did not attend the Concert by Chloe Jones and Dominic on Saturday 5th October missed a real treat. Chloe sang both accompanied and unaccompanied and her beautiful alto voice filled the building. She also brought her flute, recorder, piccolo, Northumbrian bagpipes, concertina, accordion and many more, and of course she plays the piano. She sang a huge variety of songs covering many different types of music.

For Dominic, who is 8, it was his first performance and he did extremely well, both singing and playing recorder. It was lovely to see him starting out on a musical career and so well-taught by his mother.

Film Club

Another great film was enjoyed by over 30 Film Club members in October. Hidden Figures is a powerful film following the lives of three brilliant female mathematicians who were employed by NASA to aid the space programme. If you weren't there, you missed a treat!

As part of the village act of remembrance, next month's film (8 Nov) will be Journey's End which portrays the life of C company as they are deployed to Northern France in March 1918. This is reviewed as a moving and, some say, the best "war" film ever made. I'm sure it will prove to be an emotive movie and provide a base for reflection on all that happened in those times. Hope to see you there.

Prostate cancer is the biggest cancer threat to men. Prostate Cancer UK (PCUK) works closely with medical research units across the country to help find new ways of limiting its impact. On Wednesday 6th November Sue Boyes, Peer Support Manager at PCUK, will be attending our TAPS meeting to let us know how PCUK can help us all, report on new developments in research, and Sue will offer practical suggestions on our own support group's development for 2020.

November may already be halfway through when you're reading this but it's never too late to support the "Movember" campaign for 2019. One of our team, Nigel, is campaigning to raise funds for Movember by growing his Movember moustache (and thereby annoying his wife) and he is hoping to beat his 2016 total of £750. You can support him at the Movember website: https://mobro.co/nigelallam. Movember supports a wide range of charities including Prostate Cancer UK.

On 4th of December Simon Francis, Wellbeing Lead at Nuffield Health, will advise us on how we can all live longer and achieve a better quality of life. This may interest anyone who has suffered serious illness.

Our meetings are open to anyone with prostate cancer and their family and friends and start at 6:30pm at the Callington Health Centre. They are free to attend with tea/coffee included. For more information contact:

Chris Greensted by phone on 01822 834797 or by email to "tapsinfo555@gmail.com"

FOUR PAGE PULL-OUT-AND-KEEP ECO SECTION

Report of the public presentation by Peter Blenard, Waste and Recycling Community Support Officer, for Cornwall Council, on September 26th, 2019 at Millennium House Pensilva.

35 people attended this event, about one third of them from outside our parish. Peter is part of Cornwall Council's Community Engagement Team which is responsible for increasing recycling rates and decreasing waste arising, as well as for supporting community groups in waste reduction projects.

The presentation began with a quiz! Which of the following cannot be recycled? I'd say that about half of us got it mostly wrong. A lot more can be recycled than you may think! The one that surprised me the most was that items of clothing can be recycled via the normal kerbside collection. (Must be clean and dry and tied in a plastic bag). Searchable lists of recyclable items, with clear instructions, are available here: https://www.cornwall.gov.uk/environment-and-planning/recycling-rubbish-and-waste/recycling-collections

In 2018/19 Cornwall Council disposed of 274,500 tonnes of waste, almost one tonne per household and a cost of about £205 per household. Future contracts for all waste services in Cornwall were being negotiated at the time of the presentation but currently Biffa do the kerbside collections; they pass everything to Suez who operate the Household Waste and Recycling Centres (HWRCs) and the Energy Recovery Centre - which we mustn't any more call the "Incinerator" :-) This operates for 8,000 hours per year, reducing 240,000 tonnes of unrecyclable waste to tonnes 65,000 of ash and, in the process, providing 20MW of electricity to the grid: enough to power 21,000 homes. Before this facility opened, we were sending 120 lorryloads a day to landfill! Some good news: The Cornwall HWRCs recycle about 60% of the waste they receive, but our area does slightly better that. All recycling is reprocessed in the UK – nothing is sent abroad.

Plastics can be recycled up to 7 times. With each cycle, the 'grade' of the plastic is slightly inferior until, on the last cycle, we end up with the 'unrecyclable' plastics. We can all help by reducing the total amount of plastics we use and by being meticulous about how we dispose of our plastic waste.

I mentioned that new waste collection contracts are being negotiated, but not that the whole collection regime will change quite substantially. The main difference is that food waste will be collected separately. No doubt we will hear all about it when the time comes, but this seems like a positive step. Food waste will go to anaerobic digesters, from where the methane produced can be reused for cooking and heating. Amazing!

Our guest handled our questions with patience and aplomb, after which Ali Humphreys spoke about the Terracycle recycling project in our neighbouring parish of South Hill. You can read about that in Ali's piece on the back page of this 4-page eco-pullout section!

Joe Bicarrequi.

Why Has a Climate Emergency Been Declared? Page 1 of 2

The International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) was set up in 1988 to assess the vast amount of published literature on climate change. Its assessment reports are contributed to by thousands of people (mostly scientists) across the world by gathering data from thousands of scientific papers.

The IPCC is now widely recognised as the internationally accepted authority on climate change. It shared the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize with Al Gore and is endorsed by the United Nations. Its reports make a major contribution to the UN's Framework Convention on Climate Change which aims to keep the global average temperature to well below 2°C above pre-industrial levels and to limit the increase to 1.5°C. This Framework has been adopted by the UK and 194 other countries.

Since 1988, the IPCC has reported several times on global climate change. Importantly, in 2014 it published its 5th assessment report in which it said:

- The concentration of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere has increased to levels unprecedented on earth in the last 800,000 years.
- The earth's most dramatic temperature increases have been since the 1950's.
- Human activity has been the dominant cause of global warming since the 1950's.
- This unprecedented global warming has increased the likelihood of severe, pervasive & irreversible impacts on the Earth's environment and its inhabitants.
- To limit these impacts, the earth's temperature needs to be restricted to a rise of no more than 2°C and preferably no more than 1.5°C, compared to those recorded in the pre-industrial era (i.e. before 1850).
- Many aspects of climate change and its associated impacts will continue for centuries, even if mankind's greenhouse gas emissions all stopped tomorrow.
- The longer we wait to reduce our emissions, the more expensive it will become.
- Currently we are on a trajectory to reach 3.7°C to 4.8°C by the end of the century. When the Paris Agreement on climate change was adopted by the UN in 2016, the UN asked the IPCC to write a Special Report on "How can humanity prevent a global temperature rise of more than 1.5 degrees above pre-industrial levels" In October 2018 that report was published. It said:
- At 2°C temperature increase would, amongst others, exacerbate: extreme weather, rising sea levels, diminishing Arctic sea ice, coral bleaching, loss of ecosystems and the extinction of many plant and animal species.
- For global warming to be limited to 1.5°C, "Global net human-caused emissions of carbon dioxide would need to fall by about 45 percent from 2010 levels by 2030, reaching 'net zero' around 2050.

Why Has a Climate Emergency Been Declared? Page 2 of 2

- Global warming will likely rise to 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels between 2030 and 2052 if warming continues to increase at the current rate.
- Meeting a 1.5 °C target is possible but would require "deep emission reductions" and "rapid, far-reaching and unprecedented changes in all aspects of society" and "a stringent [emission reduction] mitigation scenario".
- Limiting global warming to 1.5°C with no or limited overshoot would require rapid and far-reaching transitions in energy, land, urban and infrastructure (including transport and buildings), and industrial systems. These systems transitions are unprecedented in terms of scale, but not necessarily in terms of speed, and imply deep emissions reductions in all sectors".
- "Estimates of the global emissions outcome of current nationally stated mitigation ambitions as submitted under the 2016 Paris Agreement would not limit global warming to 1.5°C, even if supplemented by very challenging increases in the scale and ambition of emissions reductions after 2030". "Avoiding overshoot ...can only be achieved if global CO2 emissions start to decline well before 2030".

This means that none of us are doing enough to reduce our greenhouse gas emissions. On a personal, business or community level and at local or national government level, we need to make "rapid, far-reaching and unprecedented changes in all aspects of society".

This is why Extinction Rebellion has been in the news so much this year. It's also why Cornwall Council declared a Climate Emergency in January 2019, why St Ive Parish Council also then declared one in April 2019 and why parliament also recognised the Climate Emergency earlier this year. Hundreds of city, town and parish councils across the country have now declared a Climate Emergency. Climate change is real and we need to take it seriously.

Declaring a Climate Emergency is great but worthless unless urgent action is taken.

Cornwall Council set-up a working group that has done a lot of good work in identifying what can be done to reduce carbon emissions within the county and work towards becoming carbon neutral by 2030. The St Ive Parish Climate Action Group was set-up in April 2019 with the same aim but within the parish.

If the issue of climate change is a concern for you, we would welcome your involvement with the parish's Climate Action Group. Come and help our community work towards achieving carbon neutrality by 2030. Contact: pmwiscombe@hotmail.com
